

Friday Night (under the) Lights...

2021

Happy Friday...

I hope everyone is doing well. I know it's been a long, tough week for many of you (no shortage of those these days).

I'll be very brief tonight (even though I set it up beautifully to blame that on the long, tough week just mentioned – the truth is it's because I started typing at 11:16PM)...

As Geneva Whitmore would say... "so, there's that"

I want to provide you with more powerful evidence supporting COVID vaccines to date. Fact is, the current vaccines are arguably up there on the list with the most effective medical interventions available today. The data is straightforward and provides yet another validation of how effective these vaccines are compared to other interventions designed at preventing a specific outcome...

Here's the latest fact. Based on this public health data, if you wanted birth control as effective as the current COVID vaccines are (95%), you'd have to have your tubes tied or get a vasectomy.

See? One more reason to go for the vaccine...

The power of comparative analyses...

I'd better stop here ...

So, that's it from my World. Happy Friday.

I appreciate you all...

Ed

Ed Racht, MD
 edward.racht@gmr.net

